The banking fiasco's have proven to be pretty disgusting stories. Greed & mismanagement have rippled across the markets. Ironically it appears upper-level management & large depositors got more than their fair share. People need to go to prison & it might stop some of this non-sense. I have officially proven that I know nothing about college basketball. My bracket looks awful. My favorite team left is Kansas State so that probably means they get beat quickly. Our sympathy goes out to the Craig Mitchell family with his untimely passing. To Sharon & all the kids, we offer you our very best.

PAULEY BROS. SPRING MACHINERY CONSIGNMENT SALE TUESDAY, MARCH 28 9A.M

I was gone for 3 days on the East coast. If you want to open your eyes, go to the East coast. Homes that cost 10 million to 35 million. 1 or 2 bedroom condo's 1.5 to 3 million and people are buying them like potatoes. Restaurants with standing room only with meals that cost over 100 dollars if you have a drink or 2 per person. So if these people complain about taxes, I don't care. The blessed people that make multimillions should pay more taxes. Really who needs to live in houses that could house a small army. The really sad thing is that most of these kids who live in these million dollar homes will most likely not know enough to come in out of the rain. Is American going to have anyone tough enough to fight in a war if that happens? Probably not. The path of the next workforce generation and some now makes me wonder who will be the backbone of America. Pretty Scary. I lost another young friend, Craig Mitchell. The memories that Wally Brummer, Craig and I made will last me a life time. Rest in Peace until we all meet again.
